

California Proposition 65

California Proposition 65 provides for California consumers to be aware of special warnings for products that contain chemicals known to the State of California to cause cancer, birth defects, or other reproductive harm. The warning identifies potential cancer or reproductive hazards but not the potential level of risk. The warning is required even if the risk is very low.

Williams Healthcare Systems has been producing chiropractic tables and other products for over 100 years, and we want to ensure our customers that they have the information to support their decisions related to the purchase of our products. Thus, we provide the warning and specific information related to our products.

The California Proposition 65 warning below is related to the vinyl utilized on our upholstery products. Our vinyl materials are typically formulated with flame retardants to meet regulatory requirements for product flammability, but the flame retardant in vinyl is not readily available to migrate out of the product and exposure to the flame retardant should be very low. Organic solvents are utilized during the manufacture of vinyl fabric and if there is any exposure that exposure would be expected to be very low.

Wires in electrical cords may contain lead and other chemicals known to the State of California to cause cancer or reproductive harm. No products sold by Williams Healthcare Systems should have exposed wiring and our customers should discard any damaged cords with exposed wiring.

Drilling, sawing, sanding, or machining of wood products can expose you to wood dust, a substance known to the State of California to cause cancer. No wood product from Williams Healthcare Systems should be drilled, sawed, sanded, or machined.
